

Curran & Connors Wins 14 GDUSA American Digital Design Awards™

Holbrook, New York, May 20, 2025—Curran & Connors, Inc. (C&C), a leading designer and producer of corporate reports, digital solutions, and corporate branding, has been honored in the GDUSA American Digital Design Awards™ Competition. The competition celebrates the power of exceptional design to enhance online and interactive experiences including websites, social media, email marketing, digital advertising, e-publications, apps, video, animation, UX/UI design, and more.

This recognition highlights C&C's continued leadership in corporate reporting and affirms our strength across a wide range of digital disciplines. Our work in UX and UI design, data visualization and infographics, animation and video, and digital publications demonstrates our ability to create strategic and visually compelling solutions that perform across platforms and media.

"We're honored to be recognized for our digital design work," said John Lantz, Senior Web Designer & UX Advisor, C&C. "Our team puts a lot of thought into creating experiences that are engaging, accessible, and easy to navigate. It's rewarding to see that approach resonate in such a fast-changing digital space."
